

Attract the best Young Engineers

The Engineers Australia Jobs Board places your position vacancies in front of our 40,000+ student and graduate members.

Get your graduate programs, internships, vacation placements, work experience and early career roles up to 4 years' post-graduation in front of a highly engaged audience of active young engineers searching for opportunities.

Advertising your vacancies through our Jobs Board is free and unlocks an engineering-only audience of engaged students and graduates. In 2024, our members made 34,000 applications for early career roles advertised on our Jobs Board.

To start attracting young engineers, create an employer account and set up your company profile on Prosple, our technology partner.

With your Prosple Employer hub account, you can:

- Post job and internship advertisements for students directly to EA's Jobs Board.
- Receive applications directly through email or to your organisation's application tracking system
- Publish articles, videos, office tours, and engaging content to increase your brand awareness on the platform.
- Monitor advertisement engagement, views and applications.

If you have any questions, contact Prosple directly:
customers@prosple.com

We look forward to seeing your employer profile and jobs and internship ads live soon!

Set up your company profile and post
your first job →

engaus.org/JobsBoardsetup